		Expected outcome	Disaster is one of the burning problems of the contemporary world. Almost all parts of the world suffer from both natural and man-made disasters. Natural disasters include earthquake, landslide, avalanche, cyclones, forest fires, drought, floods, volcanic eruptions etc. Human induced disasters include nuclear, chemical and industrial disasters, and soil, air, noise and water pollution. Global Warming and epidemics are other forms of disaster. Causes, consequences and management of disaster mitigation have caught the attention of government agencies, scholars and students. A large number of students, teachers, government employees and persons engaged in non-government agencies want to study the various aspects of disaster management.

		Expected outcome	With the rise in environmental awareness and the widening of the regulatory and preventive roles of the State, there has emerged a large demand for Environmental Scientists and professionals. The M.Sc. Course in Environmental Science offered through Nalanda Open University has the relevance that it proposes to fill up the gap between the current demand and supply. The two-year course is being taught by highly qualified and motivated teachers.

Srno	It is certified that all the activities .	Name of Centre	Address of Centre / City/ Pin Code/ State	Briefly write on the methods and steps to be adopted for conduct of examination to ensure security, transparency & credibility of examination	Whether Examination centre fulfills all the requirement mentioned in Annexure II	A) Proposed Examination Centre for term end examinatio for ODL programme for Upcoming Academic Years
1	Yes	NALANDA OPEN UNIVESITY	3RD FLOOR, BISCOMAUN BHAWAN, - PATNA-800001-Bihar	The University conducts examination separately at the end of each year of every programme. Thus, even for Intermediate students (I.A./I.Com./I.Sc.), the annual examinations are held at the end of each year of study. In other words, first term end examination for Intermediate students are organized at the end of first year of study. The final term end examination are held on completion of the second year of study. Similarly, learners of Bachelor Courses have to appear in annual examinations conducted separately at the end of 1st, 2nd and 3rd year of study. The P.G. Students are also required to take two separate examinations, conducted at the end of 1st and 2nd year of their study. As pre regulations of the University, it is compulsory for every student to pass in each paper, separately, of his/her study before he/she can be declared to have passed in that part of the examination. A minimum of 33% of marks is necessary in most of the programmes to pass separately in each paper. However, the pass percentage in each of the Honours papers is 45%. To determine the aforesaid 45% of marks in Honours paper and 33% in other papers, the marks obtained by the students, both in term end written examination and the practical examination /home assignment / project work of that paper, as the case may be, are clubbed and added together to determine the pass marks in that paper. However, if a student has secured zero mark in written examination of any paper or in practical examination / home assignment /project work, he/she will be deemed to have failed in that paper.
